

Creating a new Pendleton

After years in the planning, an announcement will be made soon on which bidder will be given the go ahead to put into place its proposals for creating a new Pendleton. The council and Salix Homes are looking forward to working with the chosen bidder and work should begin later in 2011.

2010 was a busy year for the community in the Pendleton PFI area. Officers from Salix Homes have now re-housed over half the residents on Holcombe Close and Pear Tree and Apple Tree courts so the phased demolition of properties can begin in due course. Some residents from Holcombe Close were able to move into the new development of homes on Fitzwarren Street, which achieved a national 'Building for Life' silver standard last year. Residents were delighted to be re-housed next to long-time neighbours and family members. The new homes feature double glazing, solar panels

Islington Flower Power

Residents on the Islington estate are hoping a new planting project will help cut down traffic using their estate as a short-cut.

Hundreds of bulbs have been planted on the entrance to the estate spelling out the name 'Islington'. The idea for the project, supported by Salix Homes, the Central Salford Urban Regeneration Company and the council's Park Ranger was introduced by local residents association TIETARA as a way to dissuade commuters from using the estate as a rabbit run near the busy Chapel Street.

Residents, children from the local St Philip's Primary School and Salix Homes staff got their hands dirty on a wintery November day to plant the bulbs which will flourish in the spring under the expert eye of the Park Ranger.

Sarah Davies, Salix Homes' neighbourhood champion for the area said 'It was fantastic being able to support this project and great to see everyone in the community getting involved. Come spring time this will be an excellent feature to the estate and the community can feel proud of the work that has gone into it'

No experience necessary!

Ordsall Community Allotment Society

We are still holding meetings every month in the hope that we will eventually receive a letter of intent for the allotments to be situated on the old St. Clements school site.

We cannot apply for any funding without this letter. In the meantime funding is slowly drying up due to the economic climate.

We have the backing of local Councillors and agencies we have approached and LPC Living. The Council has purchased the land at the school site but there are various legal requirements before it can be officially offered to us.

We are a very dedicated group and will not give up until we have achieved our objective.

Time is moving on and as I said once before the necessity for a 'zimmer' frame parking place is beginning to seem likely to be a priority if something doesn't happen during the early part of next year.

Sylvia Sharples, Treasurer

Ordsall Park Community Garden

As most local residents will have seen, work has begun on the new Ordsall Park Community Garden. Ian and Barbara from the Friends of Ordsall Park have done a fantastic job securing funding from Salix to put towards the development of the garden and now after much consultation and planning the garden is well on its way to being completed.

We'll be organising a grand opening celebration as well as lots of activities in the park throughout the year so keep an eye on the notice board for more up to date information or check out the fabulous new Friends of Ordsall Park website at www.friendsofordsallpark.co.uk

If you fancy getting involved with the Community Garden or would like to know more about park activities and the Friends of Ordsall Park please contact Kate the Council Ranger for Ordsall on 07540 671 598 or contact rangers@salford.gov.uk

Date for your diary: 16th February 2011. Bring the kids along to the park for a free craft activity making tree goblins to protect our park!

Langworthy SNAP

SNAP is re-visiting Langworthy, Pendleton and Seedley between Monday 24 January and Sunday 30 January.

If you live in the area, you'll receive a leaflet telling you about what's happening but you can also go online to www.salford.gov.uk/langworthysnap or call 909 6544 to find out more.

There are lots of free events taking place for all ages so don't miss out. There will also be a free bulky waste collection. To find out how it all goes, read the SNAP blog that will be available throughout the week at www.salford.gov.uk/langworthysnapblog

The Quays Festival

August bank holiday saw Salford Watersports Centre host the Salford Quays festival in memory of Phil Hobbs, a former member of staff who sadly passed away after a long fight against cancer at the age of 25 years.

The day started with a Bell Boat Regatta that saw teams competing for some great prizes. All participants had a fantastic morning of racing with the prizes at the end being awarded by the Mayor of Salford who spent the morning watching and enjoying the racing.

The afternoon saw the option for people to take part in all the activities offered by the watersports centre, including sailing, canoeing, kayaking, windsurfing, and bell boating. These were come and try sessions that were all free.

Gareth Field from the British Canoe Union ran sessions in slalom kayak coaching. Salford Wildcatz Canoe Polo Club also held a demonstration match. After this people were able to take part with the team members.

At lunch time the SCL dance team came down with two of their groups to hold a performance. The Boy Botz, from The Rainbow community centre in Eccles and Definition, who audition for places from across the city, performed to the crowd

The day saw even more activities. The car park was transformed into a skate park, there was a bouncy castle, a surf board simulator, indoor climbing wall, speed boat rides and a gyroscope that simulated the weightlessness of being in space.

A raffle was held in aid of Sail For Cancer. There were many prizes donated by local businesses including a meal for two at the Ramada and an overnight stay for a family of four at the Holiday Inn. This raised an excellent amount of £320.

The day was enjoyed by all participants, staff and the Mayor of Salford. Watch out for The Quays Festival 2011.

Outdoor Ability

The Summer of 2010 saw the introduction at the watersports centre of Outdoor ability. This consisted of sessions in rafted open canoeing and sailing in the recently purchased Stratos Keel sailing boats.

Throughout the summer there were sessions funded by Aiming High For People With Disability that allowed the watersports centre to offer these for free.

These sessions saw young people with disabilities from all over Salford get a chance to go out on to the water and try a new activity. Some of them loved it so much they came back more than once. Although the aim was to introduce people to these exciting sports as we had so many returners we were able to teach them the basics.

Looking forward to summer 2011 we are again trying to source funding for more free taster sessions. However if this is not forthcoming then we will put the sessions on at a small charge. As well as this we are hoping to run some courses in both sailing and canoeing allowing people to learn a bit more.

Keep an eye out on our website www.salford.gov.uk/watersportscentre or on our facebook (salford watersports centre) for more information.

Ready to make a change?

Do you want to make a positive change in your lifestyle, but are struggling to do so? If you live in Pendleton, Langworthy or Ordsall, you may be able to get support from your local Health Trainers, Stephen Wibberley and Jon Shepherd-Smyth.

Steve and Jon can offer free, practical one-to-one support for people to make changes they want in their life, and link into activities and services in the local area. Despite the name, a Health Trainer is not all about exercise, diet or smoking. In fact, they can support people who want to feel happier or more confident, get involved in social activities, education or work, amongst other things.

The Health Trainers service is incredibly popular. Since 2007, over 2,500 people in Salford have benefitted. It has recently been rated as one of the most successful Health Trainer services in the country for the number of people who have achieved their personal goals.

“Because each person is free to go at their own pace without any pressure, they really enjoy it”, says Jon, “especially because they are doing things they want to do, reaching simple goals with support.”

To find out if a Health Trainer is right for you, or to make an appointment for an informal chat about the changes you want to make, call the Health Trainers service at Unlimited Potential on 0161 743 0088.

Ordsall Acapella Singers

Open Evening on 18 January 2011

Ordsall Acapella Singers are holding an open evening on Tuesday, January 18th, 7pm-9pm at The Everyone Centre, Robert Hall Street, Ordsall, Salford M5 3LT.

Ordsall Acapella Singers were formed in 2005. We meet every Tuesday to sing, socialise and generally enjoy ourselves.

We are always happy to welcome new members of any level of ability from enthusiastic amateur to accomplished chorister. Our aim is to enjoy singing and if we get better at it, as inevitably we do, then so much the better.

We perform at both public and private events, inside and out. We have even been broadcast on Radio Manchester.

If you are interested in joining us and would like to find out more, we would love to see you on 18th January.

If you'd like to contact us before then, please go to : www.ordsallsingers.co.uk/contact/contactus.php

2011 Census

27th March 2011 is census day. Census forms will be arriving by post to every household during March.

Salford had a 90% response rate to the census in 2001; the national average was 94%.

Census information is used by business and government to plan their services. The information about individuals is kept confidential for 100 years and is not shared with any other agencies, including any other part of government.

I am working in Salford to promote the census so everyone knows their form will arrive in March and understands why it is important the form is completed. From March when the forms are sent out there will be a telephone helpline to answer people's questions and on-line help. This doesn't suit everyone so there will be a local census completion events where people can go for support and advice to help them complete the form.

By establishing a local support network and making sure people's questions about the form are answered I hope there will be an excellent response rate in 2011.

Please contact Anita Boothman on 07801 331297, B110@census.gov.uk, if you would like someone to come and talk to your team or your community group about the 2011 Census or arrange a census completion event in your area where people could go for help to complete their form.

BEAT meetings replace PACT meetings

BEAT meetings replace the old PACT meetings (Police and Community together). They are Police led meetings but partner agencies are invited such as housing and councillors and it gives residents the opportunity to attend and tell the Police what policing priorities they have.

These are then dealt with prior to the meetings. Examples such as anti-social behaviour, crime issues, traffic issues and even minor issues such as dog fouling and littering have been dealt with.

Anything that cannot be dealt with solely by the Police will be taken to our partner agencies.

Creating jobs and increasing volunteering

The council's neighbourhood management team have created five new jobs through the Future Jobs Fund in Ordsall, Langworthy and Pendleton.

The staff will start work in January 2011. They will be Volunteer Coordinators and will help local people wishing to volunteer with local groups.

The posts will be based at and managed by Ordsall Community Café, Ordsall Community Arts, Seedley and Langworthy Trust, The Emmanuel Church and Rainbow Haven.

Sue Bowen from the Neighbourhood Management Team who initiated the project said, 'I realised that a lot of groups had opportunities for volunteers but did not have the time to find people. I felt it would be a great idea to create the jobs through the Future Jobs Fund which has no cost to the organisations involved. Not only would the project be supporting people back into work but would be increasing the activity of the groups and getting more people involved in their community'

All of the organisations involved rely on volunteers for occasional activities e.g. leafleting, events and for more long term support e.g. management committee members, researchers, youth workers etc. They will be strengthened by offering support and training.

Sue added, 'We want all the volunteers and staff to have the best possible experience; this project will benefit the groups, the volunteers and create positive opportunities for people to gain meaningful employment.'

The network of groups involved will be served by a volunteer bureau in the SALT shop on Langworthy Road and at Ordsall Café, where the opportunities will be advertised to local residents. It is estimated that the project could support up to 200 volunteering opportunities.

Other organisations will be able to advertise their opportunities through the bureau. To support this a Volunteer Network Coordinator has been employed. Salford CVS have also given advice. If you would like more information contact: Sue Bowen on 0161 737 9918.

Interested in Fostering?

If you've room in your heart and room in your home, visit www.youcanfoster.org

Salford City Council has joined forces with 22 other local authorities from across the North West on a campaign to get more people to become foster carers. This is a really exciting campaign and a great chance to find out more about fostering!

This is the first time this many councils in the region have worked together on a project like this, and by doing so we're able run a campaign including TV and radio advertising.

There are lots of different types of fostering schemes that you could apply for; giving you flexibility to choose an option suited to you and your life. From short term to long term fostering, we need more people to come forward and change a child's life.

If you or anybody you know is interested in fostering, visit www.youcanfoster.org.uk or call 0800 634 7052

Police use Smiley Sid to warn speeding motorists

A new type of roadside technology is to be used in Pendleton to help reduce the speed of motorists by displaying their speed alongside a happy face or sad face

The speed indication device or Smiley Sid monitors how fast a car is travelling. If the car is travelling at the correct speed limit, a smiling face will appear on a digital board at the side of the road. If they are travelling over the limit, a sad face will appear and the registered owner will receive a letter, warning them of the dangers of speeding.

Sergeant Rob Kirby from the Neighbourhood Policing Team said: "The idea of this initiative is not to catch people out but make them aware of the speed they are travelling. Moving an extra five miles per hour can prove fatal should an accident occur so it is important motorists are sticking to the limit."

The equipment is being used following police receiving a number of complaints from residents in Pendleton.

Sergeant Kirby added: "People attending our surgeries and Beat meetings told us speeding cars in the area was a worry for them and they wanted us to tackle the issue. These types of meeting are an ideal opportunity for the community to tell us how they want their neighbourhood policed and for them to pick out the priorities they feel we should be concentrating on."

To report crime call police on 0161 872 5050 or for more information visit www.gmp.police.uk

You can also call anonymously with information about crime to Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111. Crimestoppers is an independent charity who will not want your name, just your information. Your call will not be traced or recorded and you do not have to go to court or give a statement.
